

Report on Happy Campers Campground Webpage

The webpage features a clean, responsive design, ensuring readability and visual appeal. The CSS styling enhances the form with a bordered, shadowed container, rounded input fields, and a green-themed submit button that changes on hover. Additionally, the page includes a welcoming heading and a motivational tagline: "Fires are the best therapy!"

The registration form is designed to be simple and organized, collecting essential user information such as Full Name, Phone Number, Email, and camping dates. Users can select their preferred accommodation—Tent, RV, or Cabin—via radio buttons, and choose optional services like Firewood, Electricity Hookup, and Water Hookup using checkboxes. Each field has validation requirements, ensuring all necessary details are provided before submission, which improves accuracy and user experience.

The form is functional and user-friendly. Upon submission, the entered information is displayed on the next screen. If any required details are missing, error messages alert the user to complete the necessary fields. The project is currently 90% complete, with the final phase focused on adding a transparent fire image behind the text to enhance the form's visual appeal. Once this is implemented, the design and functionality will be fully finalized.
